Abstract Title: Applications of Lessons Learnt from North America for Effective Exploration Strategies in the Middle East Shale Plays?

Abstract: The effective and economic development of international plays will have the benefit of being able to accelerate the process by taking advantage of the lessons learnt in North America. Trying to build on the lessons learnt from North America, the IEA recently published “The Golden Rules of the Golden Age of Gas”. In conjunction with these Golden Rules, we will explore the lessons learnt, new workflows, technologies, and processes to see how they can be applied to the exploration strategies for shale gas in the Middle East.
